

Attendance System

There are two users for that system:

- 1- Admin
- 2- 2-Employee

System Pages:

- 1- Home Page
- 2- Profile Page
- 3- Attendance Page

The first thing the employee will do as being a new Employee will be registering hi own data

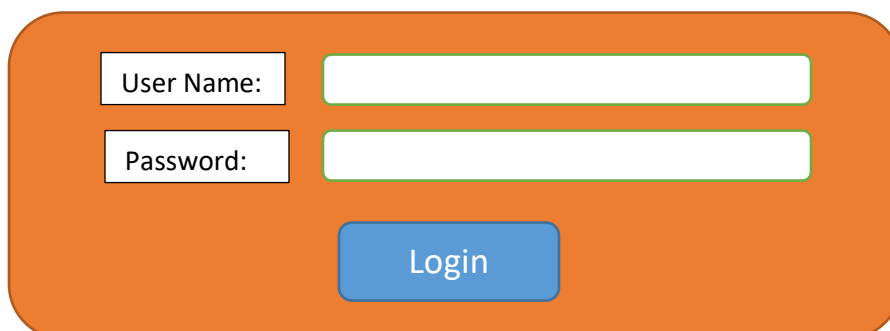

A registration form for a new employee, displayed on an orange background with rounded corners. The form contains five input fields for personal information, each with a label to its left: 'First Name:', 'Last Name:', 'Address:', 'Email:', and 'Age:'. Below these fields are two blue buttons: 'Register' and 'Login'.

After adding the personal information, there will be a mail that will be sent to the admin holding the data entered.

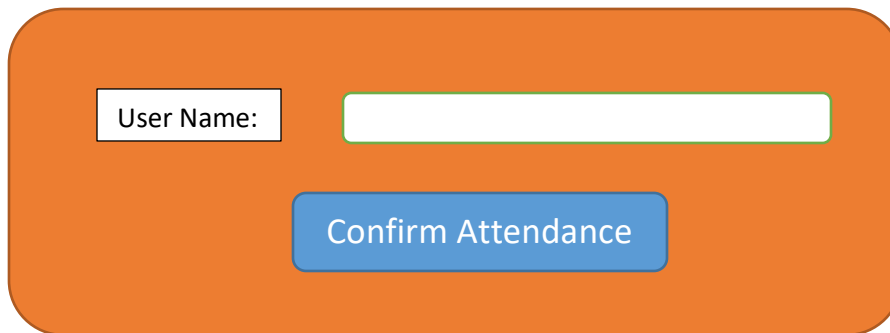

The admin will send a confirmation mail to the user holding a unique user name (Random Code) and a password.

The employee will then login the system using those two fields.

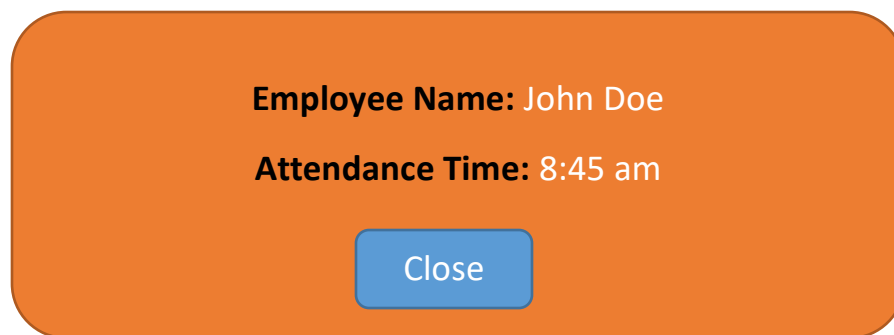

A login form for an employee, displayed on an orange background with rounded corners. The form contains two input fields: 'User Name:' and 'Password:'. Below these fields is a single blue button labeled 'Login'.

The Attendance page will be viewed to the employee who is responsible for the attendance system.
